Acceptance of conditions of use

By using our Facebook page (our “Page”), you hereby accept the conditions of use described herein, which may be modified from time to time without notice. Further, the information appearing on our Page is subject to change without prior notice.

By clicking ‘Like’ on Highgate’s Facebook pages, you may be contacted by Highgate, via your newsfeed and your Facebook inbox, about products and services that could interest you. At any time you may select ‘Unlike’ on Highgate’s Facebook page.

Age of majority

Upon accessing our Page, you declare having attained the age of majority in the jurisdiction in which you reside.

License

Upon downloading or uploading content from, or onto, our Page, whether directly or indirectly through the content of another, you provide us, as well as any other entity that we would be required to provide a license (or you warrant that the owner of the content provides us, as well as any other entity that we would be required to provide a license), without compensation in any form, a universal, perpetual, irrevocable, non-exclusive license that provides us, as well as any other entity that we would be required to provide a license, with the right to use, reproduce, modify, transmit, communicate, translate and/or publish such content, in whole or in part. This license provided by you would also provide us with the right to publish or promote such content in relation to the service or product for which the content had been submitted or produced, as well as for any other promotions in connection with such related product or service. This license will apply in respect of all forms, mediums, or technologies that are currently used or subsequently developed. Further, you renounce any moral right in such content or you warrant that such content is free from any related moral rights.

Opinions

The opinions posted by us or by our Page’s users do not represent nor necessarily reflect our opinion and/or the opinions of our directors, managers, personnel or employees. Further, that such opinions are not removed from our Page does not constitute our approval of them.

Inappropriate content

We reserve the right at our sole discretion to, without notice, remove or modify (i) any content that does not comply with these conditions of use, or (ii) any content that we deem to be inappropriate or inadvisable, notably content that:

- Contains, reveals, or provides for the obtaining of personal information or confidential information that may be used to determine a person's identity;
- May be prejudicial, defamatory, obscene, or inflammatory;
- May contain threats or constitute harassment;
- Contains personal attacks;
- May be discriminatory, racist, sexist, or homophobic;
- May incite violence or hatred;
- May be false or misleading;
- May be in contravention of current laws or regulations;
- May have advertisement or commercialization as its purpose;

We reserve the right, at our sole discretion, to refuse access to our Page to any person for any reason at any time without notice.

Trademarks

You are prohibited from copying, redistributing, republishing, downloading onto any device, retransmitting, modifying, or making publicly known or using for commercial means, any of these trade names, trademarks or other content on our Page, unless specifically authorized by us on our Page.

Our products and services

The products and services described in the information contained on our Page are only available at the locations where such products or services may be legally offered. Our products or services, in which a resident of another nation-state may be interested, are not necessarily available in such other nation-state. Our products and services comply with the laws of the jurisdiction in which they are offered.
